ABSTRACT. A survey of some recent literature concerning continuous selections and linear selections for the set-valued metric projection is given. Some open problems are also stated.